

MODERN SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING STATEMENT

Introduction

In compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015, Legacy Leisure Ltd and its subsidiaries provides the following statement regarding its efforts to prevent slavery and human trafficking in its business and supply chain. We have a responsibility to be alert to the risks, however small, in our business and in the wider supply chain. Staff are expected to report concerns and management are expected to act upon them.

Our Structure, Business & Supply Chains

Legacy Leisure Ltd is registered in England and Wales under Company No:08361324 and specialises in the development and operation of leisure facilities on behalf of Local Authority clients. Since our formation in 2013 we have grown considerably, managing a diverse range of sites throughout the country with a turnover of £42.5m and employs approximately 2,300 staff..

The procurement activities carried out by Legacy Leisure Ltd mainly relate to repairs and maintenance, equipment, cleaning, utilities and catering, with UK and EU sourced labour. We work with a variety of suppliers from large corporations to subcontractors and small local suppliers providing a wide range of products and services. The majority of our suppliers are based in the UK.

Policies

Legacy Leisure Ltd's commitment to prevent modern slavery is outlined in our Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy and our Purchasing Policy.

Due Diligence Processes in relation to slavery and human trafficking

Legacy Leisure will not support or deal with any business knowingly involved in slavery and/or human trafficking. The company has zero tolerance of any act(s) of modern day slavery and human trafficking within its business and its supply chains, including subcontractors and partners. The company acknowledges its responsibility as defined by the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and ensures transparency within the organisation and its suppliers of goods and services.

As part of the company's due diligence processes in connection with its slavery and human trafficking policy, the supplier approval process requires suppliers to comply with the Modern Slavery Act and to submit evidence as to how they take steps to mitigate this issue, where required. Imported goods from sources from outside the UK and EU are potentially more at risk for slavery/human trafficking issues. The level of management control required for these sources is continually monitored.

Legacy Leisure uses select providers to manage its small number of agency and temporary worker requirements. The contracts require the provider to ensure compliance by itself and its suppliers with the requirements of the Modern Slavery Act.

Identification of the risk of slavery and human trafficking in our business and supply chains, and the steps taken to assess and manage risk

In terms of identifying indirect suppliers (for example, suppliers of components which form part of the equipment purchased by Legacy Leisure), each direct supplier is required under Legacy Leisure's compliance requirements to confirm that their supply sources for any components or labour for their equipment are compliant with the Modern Slavery Act.

In terms of use of direct labour within the UK, Legacy Leisure employs direct contracts of employment, all of which are compliant with UK and EU legislation. Wages are paid electronically directly to the employee's bank account and all new employees of Legacy Leisure are required to provide the appropriate Right to Work evidence in line with Home Office guidance. Legacy Leisure is fully compliant with the legislative requirements of both the National Minimum Wage and the National Living Wage.

With regards to indirect labour, Legacy Leisure uses carefully selected providers to manage its small number of agency and temporary worker requirements. A Service Level Agreement is in place with the suppliers which obliges them to comply with the Modern Slavery Act, amongst other regulations. In addition, we understand that the compliance safeguards within the supplier's payroll systems mean that a worker cannot be supplied to Legacy Leisure unless they have provided the correct documentation in relation to their right to work in the UK.

Where Legacy Leisure employs subcontractors to carry out work on its behalf, the sub-contract agreement contains obligations to comply with the Modern Slavery Act and other employment legislation.

Implementation

In order to achieve our objective of tackling slavery, forced labour or human trafficking, we will:

- Require all of our suppliers to provide self-certification confirming that they are not aware of any incidents of slavery, forced labour or human trafficking occurring within their business and own supply chain;
- Undertake regular reviews of our supply chain and identify any potential risks. Those suppliers that are identified will be allocated a risk profile based on the information available to us and monitored;
- Where suppliers fall short of our expectations, we require a remediation plan be prepared, implemented and reviewed to address any shortcomings highlighted;
- Provide relevant employees with training to recognise any signs of slavery, forced labour or human trafficking within our supply chain and encourage practices to mitigate the risk of this occurring;
- The Company encourages anyone to raise any concerns about modern slavery and will support anyone who acts in good faith. The Company has a whistleblowing policy which can be used to report any instances of modern slavery;

Over the course of the next financial year we will continue to enhance our procedures to help us identify, prevent and mitigate any risks of modern slavery or human trafficking in relation to new and existing suppliers.
